

The Gathering Presents...

Y2K!

Guest Speaker, Peter Kind

Join us for the next Gathering, where Lieutenant General Peter Kind will share his insights on “Y2K.”

Y2K was a significant event not well appreciated by many who were not involved in dealing with it. Lieutenant General Peter Kind will explain why with examples and then explain the extraordinary development of a first-ever capability to have real time visibility of 16 items of national critical infrastructure and operations in the U.S. and 155 reporting nations.

The capability included a 400-person trained and exercised operations center, representatives of 37 Federal departments, agencies and NGOs, a national press briefing facility, diverse and resilient communications, redundant power and more. All of this was accomplished from scratch in nine months on time, on performance and under budget.
